

Spaced out

Sandbox break. What if the backing was patterned and there were spaces between the weaving elements?

...I had to baste this one all over because the spaces made it quite loose. but I like it and I suppose it might be a nice window piece with the light coming through the thin space. The backing is a very thin printed cotton lawn.
I did the weaving with silk, composted cotton and old linen